

Environmental Justice

Environmental Justice

Guidance Under the National Environmental Policy Act

Council on Environmental Quality

Photo Source: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

14-00011-11

Environmental Justice

Environmental Justice

Guidance Under the National Environmental Policy Act

Council on Environmental Quality

Photo Source: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

14-00011-11

Environmental Justice

Environmental Justice

Guidance Under the National Environmental Policy Act

Council on Environmental Quality

Photo Source: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

14-00011-11

Environmental Justice

Environmental Justice

Guidance Under the National Environmental Policy Act

Council on Environmental Quality

Photo Source: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

14-00011-11

Environmental Justice

Federal actions including transportation projects may not proceed if they would “disproportionately” have adverse effects low-income or minority populations (i.e., compared to effects on the rest of the population), according to a Presidential Executive Order issued in 1994, and related federal orders.

Federal actions also must not deny or delay receipt of benefits by these populations, and must ensure opportunities for full and fair participation in decision-making processes.

Orders: Executive Order 12898
USDOT Order 5610.2
FHWA Order 6640.23

Guidance: Environmental Justice Guidance Under the National Environmental Policy Act, CEQ

Environmental Justice

Federal actions including transportation projects may not proceed if they would “disproportionately” have adverse effects low-income or minority populations (i.e., compared to effects on the rest of the population), according to a Presidential Executive Order issued in 1994, and related federal orders.

Federal actions also must not deny or delay receipt of benefits by these populations, and must ensure opportunities for full and fair participation in decision-making processes.

Orders: Executive Order 12898
USDOT Order 5610.2
FHWA Order 6640.23

Guidance: Environmental Justice Guidance Under the National Environmental Policy Act, CEQ

Environmental Justice

Federal actions including transportation projects may not proceed if they would “disproportionately” have adverse effects low-income or minority populations (i.e., compared to effects on the rest of the population), according to a Presidential Executive Order issued in 1994, and related federal orders.

Federal actions also must not deny or delay receipt of benefits by these populations, and must ensure opportunities for full and fair participation in decision-making processes.

Orders: Executive Order 12898
USDOT Order 5610.2
FHWA Order 6640.23

Guidance: Environmental Justice Guidance Under the National Environmental Policy Act, CEQ

Environmental Justice

Federal actions including transportation projects may not proceed if they would “disproportionately” have adverse effects low-income or minority populations (i.e., compared to effects on the rest of the population), according to a Presidential Executive Order issued in 1994, and related federal orders.

Federal actions also must not deny or delay receipt of benefits by these populations, and must ensure opportunities for full and fair participation in decision-making processes.

Orders: Executive Order 12898
USDOT Order 5610.2
FHWA Order 6640.23

Guidance: Environmental Justice Guidance Under the National Environmental Policy Act, CEQ

